

Title:

The US lost the war against Russia. The US lost the war against Afghanistan. The US are not invincible. And neither is the UK. It is a good time: It is the right time for freeing Europe of all its parasites militarily. The WHO will not be able to help the US to continue to keep the Europeans down with its digital ID frauds and its paper monsters in order to maintain the EU superstate fraud. The time has come: We need to take this chance for freeing the continent from the American, British, French, German and Swiss parasitic elites, both surface and deep.

Nuremberg 2 must be conducted under the aegis of a PERMANENT constitutional convention of the European Peoples, from which the constituted powers must be excluded: it cannot be anything else but spring cleansing of all governments, military, security and health apparatuses of the continent. The Europe of the governments will disappear and will be substituted by the Europe of the european Peoples. The US will break up.

Text:

Mrs. Nuland, the vocalist leader of the gangband of American neofascist war mongerers, last seen in Nigeria a few months ago looking for uranium ores, disappeared from the surface of the earth. One of the first desaparecidas of the first direct conflict between the US and Russia. It's a whole life she is looking for revenge: she will find her way back, at least she will try to. The O'Biden administration took the chance to lead its war against Russia on european land and, in a ridiculously grand arrogant attempt to win it easy, drowned in it the whole continent, the member countries of its vassal fiefs and itself, together with its most precious toy, NATO. The defeat of Ukraine is the military defeat of NATO and the defeat of each and every of its member states (to the exclusion of Turkey). Russia could not have done it better, if it would have had the chance to do it. The US did everything by itself, no external help was necessary in this case: It was a mix of leadership incompetence and of other factors, to set up the US for its second Afghanistan (or its third Vietnam, or its second Iraq, or its second Syria, or its second Lybia). The US can win wars only against developing countries, and only in the short run. The most important other factors are: 1. incompetence; 2. incompetence; 3. incompetence; 4. criminal energy.

In its ridiculously grand arrogance, the O'Biden administration not only drowned itself, but put on the stake the only valuable asset it still was left with, the manufacturing power remains of Chimerica, slowly repatriating from their vacation in the People's Republic, which they learned to admire so much.

The plan to maintain the boots of the fattest kid on the block on the bellies of all the others in order to remain the undisputed and the undisputable hyperpower of the planet, alias "Covid pandemic", failed miserably, and, with it, the legitimacy of the claims of the hyperpower to be able to lead the world into some "new world order" of sort. The only thing that can be seen now everywhere in Europe, in the developing periphery, not to speak of the US itself, and even in Asia, are ruins. Wherever they put their hand, US governments leave scorched earth behind themselves. SEATO is evoked from its tomb, a vane exercise. The 6th of January inside job inscenated by the US security state, deep and surface, came to be known for what it is: the n-th exercise in political arrogance, abuse of power and abuse of right, the only activities in which the US government elite apparatuses still excel relative to their worldwide counterparts.

The undisputed leaders of incompetence in the new world order are supposed to be and to remain the political elite leaders of the five eyes. It's really a pity that those eyes are that myopic.

Yes, the intentions were good: it was for breaking up Russia (an ancient brezinskian utopia). It was for extending the shelf life of the rule-based international order. For extending the lifetime of democracy as the US knows it. For showing off to the rest of the world human rights as the US know them. It was for creating a less capitalistic capitalism than the American one. It was for containing the steadying of the diffusion of economic and political power of China, a state capitalist developing country, which according to the Washington Consensus books of economic religion should have never happened, because it was impossible to happen. According to neoliberal economics, only neoliberal economics can be eternal, everything else is not and cannot be - in any case it should never be allowed to compete with eternity. China is a crazy genetic mutant of really existing socialism, that by the books should not exist and eventually must also be stopped from existing, it must be broken up, like Russia.

It is a pity that all those good intentions are all fake, all false, they are only the miserable dust with which the wannabe elites cover up their true intentions and the unending sequel of crimes they commit along their way.

The war against Russia is lost: this is a fact, not an opinion. An opinion is ruminating about the question if that war has ever been winnable by the US. The elites must pay: they claimed command, knowledge and obedience. They got them. They failed: now they must pay. Military commanders are not allowed to walk away impunely, they must stand as men. All elites must pay for it. All elites everywhere, not just in the US. Also their planetary minions must pay for it. They wanted this war, they lost it: now they must pay for it.

The middle and far east rumbles, even the empty threats of nuclear war, their blackmailing gigs to submit you to Bill Gates own digital ID and to digital vouchers, are only noises produced with an aim, a precise aim: that of distracting you, the People, from making, affirming and asserting this claim and righteously and lawfully following up on it. The elites are so used to get away with their misdeeds and grandiose failures that they are taking for granted also this time that they will get away with them, like in 2007-2008 with the backfiring of their wonderfully engineered Washington Consensus paradise crumbling in front of their eyes. It was not their fault, they said, it was the Mexican's fault who did not pay their mortgages. It was not the fault of their financial engineers, who created the weapons of financial weapons of mass destruction that they had demanded for satisfying their uncontrolled and uncontrollable greed, their insatiable drive towards appropriation of what is not theirs, and cannot be theirs. It was not their fault that you refused to believe in their magically concocted potion, it was your fault. Their constitutional convention in Davos says that it is not their profits which are eating up the planet, it is your fault if the planet is, allegedly, dying: you are at fault because you exist on this planet and you have a life, your life, without their arbitrarily revocable permission.

There is still a small window frame in between the fact and the unconditional surrender of the Ukraine army separating them from being confronted with your claim. They have a feeling of it, it the understanding of it that is lacking, at least at this moment. They can only attempt to blackmail you into submission to the WHO and its financiers: that is all that is left to them. After the unconditional surrender of the Ukraine everything will be visible to everyone, there cannot be excuses of any kind anymore. Everyone will see the truth and the truth will set you free Citizens again - which you were already before 2019.

It is your task now to take advantage of their weakness and to hit them as strongly as you can.

No, this will not be the end of everything, it will not be the end of anything, the end of humanity, the end of "civilization", we are not there yet: this will be only THEIR end. Their end does not imply your end. They have imposed on you "social distance", right? I.e. they have declared you not entitled to be full members of your civil society and of your state anymore, if not on their terms, right? You are full fledged Citizens because you are independent from them. You produce their taxes, their profits, you made them the monsters that they became now. The light coming from the end of the tunnel is there, there is something else there, something different and nonetheless identical to itself since eternity. It is a new allegiance, the new allegiance that the Creator is offering to you, if you can recognize it. The promise of the reign of heaven is not in vain, has never been in vain, but it is up to you to recognize and to act upon it or not. No, it has never been an endgame, it has only been another test, one of the many tests that humanity on this planet has passed without these elites in a biological history reaching back millions of years. The light in the tunnel becomes more and more intensive by the day, if you can recognize it: it is the light of the full fledged humanity with which you are created. If you will arrive at the end of that tunnel or not will depend on your own choices, not on theirs. The other end of the tunnel is not for free, the Creator is offering it to you, but it is you who have to move your legs in the tunnel and achieve it: you have to make the effort to achieve it. The Creator is everything and owns everything, nonetheless he respects what you own and what you achieve by yourself: the life that you own, the creature that you are.

It is not sufficient to say no, not to comply and to move on. It is not your conscience speaking here, these are their treacherous, filthy words, their propaganda, which aim at your own self-destruction. They can efficiently blackmail and psychologically torture you, vexate you, but they fear you, they fear your innate righteousness, your innate sense of justice and injustice, your innate skills as well as your innate limitations, they fear to be identified and pointed by your fingers for what they really are: liars, fraudsters, deceivers, ill formed and malformed consciences, economic parasites. As this happened many times during the many crises of humanity and of individual peoples in their history on this planet, and each time each crisis was resolved with the re-establishment of the reign of human rights, you must be able to impose upon them your choices and conditions also this time, restate them, affirm them, impose them: the conditions of a respublica christiana, in which all human beings have the same equal right to existence, a compound republic in which the human being is bound in her/his limitations and in her/his connection with the Creator. A republic in which technology is humane and not an excuse for depriving the human being of humanity. I could have said respublica humana, but it does not really render accurately enough the task, as the task is a relation. This is how humanity can have a chance to a livable planet, to a form of government which is conscious of its imperfection, and nonetheless can live with it without having to subdue and to oppress human beings.

The scientific and political perfection of transhumanism and eugenicism, are, at best, illusions, that are already destroying the planet irremediably, irreversibly and ultimately will destroy the transhumanist elites themselves. Transhumanism is only an ideology of destruction of anything humane and it can only end with its own destruction. The wisdom of the elites has already proven itself repeatedly everywhere on this planet: see Easter Island, the Inca empire, or, for this matter, the USSR - or for the same matter, the US government in its present state. There is no escape from that destiny for the transhumanist and eugenicist elites: they will destroy themselves without any help from you, no intervention will ever be necessary to defeat them. If you leave to them the whole territory unprotected, this planet will look like Easter Island in a flash, nothing of the "reservation" character foretold by Schwab, Gates, Bezos and Musk will ever happen. They and their minions will only have free way to appropriate completely the planet and destroy any form of life that they deem "useless" for their stated and/or secret purposes and policies. Every form of anorganic matter and of organic life exists for reasons that escape the limited human mind, also that of the wannabe scientific elites. It is only your choices that can determine if you will get over this n-th attack against humanity by political psychopaths or not, and, if yes, how.

Did they not tell you that the "pandemic", provoked by themselves, was a war? Did they not tell you that it was a war for ousting out of society any sentient being unconvinced of their pathological lies? If it was a war and that war is still going on, then these elites must be charged in front of martial courts, but not the present ones, not the old ones, the new ones, those under the aegis of the PERMANENT constitutional conventions of the peoples of the Earth. The charge will not be medical fraud: it will be war crimes against humanity, abuse of right and abuse of power, provoked by them for lowly motives: a subversive plan to deprive humanity of its rights and to subject it to impune, irrevocable death sentences decided by employers, politicians, media czars and international organizations, executed by the medical psychopaths branches of the medical corporation.

No, there cannot be any "peaceful revolution" like in Eastern Europe this time, as we are not dealing with failed communist parties: we are dealing with the most powerful economic organizations of the planet, who are claiming a right to subdue unconditionally the whole planet since a century, or even longer. In the case of the central banks it is without doubt more than a century. The word according to which you cannot use violence to defend yourself and your family from their open violent attacks is the fruit of the filthy, treacherous propaganda driving whole nations to their self-destruction, appealing to the innate moral conscience of the Citizens who you naturally are, but abusively, only to continue to manipulate and to oppress you and your children and the children of your children, the designated victims of their mass murderous plans. Some blood will flow on both sides, it will be inevitable. It will be inevitable to fill the concentration camps designated for the extermination of what they consider useless lives with themselves: CEOs and managers of vaccinocratic companies and corporations, psychopathic medical personnel, officers of international organizations and of private foundations, psychopathic officers of governmental institutions, military and police officers, secret services officers tainted with these crimes must all be taken out from human commerce. It is us who must exclude them from human society, from public office, from commerce and from work: we cannot afford to be governed by this ticking bomb of psychopaths on a planet where there exist arsenals of nuclear weapons sufficient to destroy it repeatedly several times. Jesus Christ did not teach to offer the other cheek to assassins and to murderers, only to erring sinners who sincerely repent for their misdeeds.

The so-called international organizations must be cleaned up for first, starting from the EU, then the IMF and the IBRD, making ALL offices of international organizations directly elective and imposing on each international organization officer, from the cleaner to their presidents, a direct mandate and accountability to the Peoples of the member states without restrictions, making them accountable and liable in local national ordinary courts, including martial courts for deeds which are equivalent to acts of war against the Peoples of the member states: no international organization tribunals anymore. The officers of international organizations must be made accountable in local national courts, be it under municipal or under universal jurisdiction. The generation of international organization officers from the Obama era must be charged in front of martial courts for the direct and the indirect participation in war crimes against humanity, for participating directly and indirectly in a conspiracy to wage biological war against humanity. All international organization officers must be taken out, without distinction, as there is no den more distant from accountable government than them. I do not favor and I do not demand death sentences, IMHO death penalty is not a penalty, but a liberation from responsibility and from liability. I favor lifelong sentences, which will have the main benefit of having them to see with their own eyes the planet develop in a new phase of peace, justice and in plenty for the whole of humanity, without them.

International organizations do not become obsolete, they are fundamental for internalizing the external effects of nation state institutions, however, they need to be re-created and re-designed according to reinforced legislative principles of democratic constitutional government - or stay closed: from the UN, the EU and the ASEAN to the IMO, the ITU and the WHO, there cannot be any exceptions.

The wannabe elites wanted the pandemic war, now they have to pay for it too, not just for the lost war against Russia.

Cato Maior Asiaticus

Salveto, Alma Mater Regina et Pater Josephus!

<http://tirarelacqua.blogspot.com>